People

All of our licenced trades people and support crew are employed directly by us - we don't contract service work out to third parties because we like to be in control of every aspect of the project that our team undertakes. We always keep abreast of plumbing infrastructure trends and new technologies so we can stay at the cutting edge of our industry.

Outside Of The Box Thinking

We're innovators and we like to think outside the box, so if we think there is a better, safer or more cost effective means to get a job done, we'll always talk to our clients about a different way of doing things. We foster strong, long term relationships with our clients and our commitment to exceeding customer requirements is why we enjoy repeat business from our established client base.
